

HUMANITARIAN LAW & POLICY

SELECTED ICRC RESOURCES

Browse through our latest publications, e-learning modules, upcoming events and ongoing debates, and subscribe to the Law and Policy newsletter to keep updated about latest news on international humanitarian law and humanitarian policy.

INTERNATIONAL REVIEW OF THE RED CROSS

Established in 1869, the International Review of the Red Cross is a quarterly journal published by the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) and Cambridge University Press.

www.icrc.org/international-review

INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW: A COMPREHENSIVE INTRODUCTION

This introductory handbook aims at promoting and strengthening knowledge of international humanitarian law (IHL) among academics, weapon-bearers, humanitarian workers and media professionals.

bit.ly/IHLhandbook

HOW DOES LAW PROTECT IN WAR?

This reference casebook and online platform contains a selection of over 300 case studies, together with a comprehensive outline of IHL, as well as pedagogical advice and resources for lecturers and trainers.

ONLINE: casebook.icrc.org

PRINT: bit.ly/casebook-print

ICRC LEGAL DATABASES

The databases provide official legal sources for established lawyers, military and humanitarian personnel, and academics wishing to supplement their work, research and studies with references to the relevant provisions of IHL treaties, customary rules and national legislation.

ihl-databases.icrc.org

E-LEARNING: THE BASIC RULES AND PRINCIPLES OF IHL

An introduction to the basics of IHL for non-specialists (eight modules), the course is currently available in French, Spanish and English on the ICRC's "Online Learning Centre" webpage, along with other thematic e-modules.

www.icrc.org/online-training-centre

HUMANITARIUM CONFERENCE CYCLES

Every year, the ICRC organizes high-level public events and expert meetings organized by the ICRC at the Humanitarian conference centre in Geneva and other key locations. Videos, conference reports, reference documents and more are available online on the Law and Policy platform.

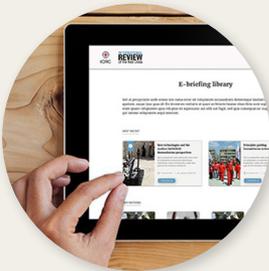

bit.ly/1QcglIU

HUMANITARIAN LAW & POLICY BLOG

A digital forum on how to better protect and assist people affected by conflict and violence, Humanitarian Law and Policy acts as a bridge between academic research and practical field application. It welcomes voices across regions, from both within and beyond the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement.

blogs.icrc.org/law-and-policy

E-BRIEFING SERIES

This e-briefing series, based on the International Review of the Red Cross, enriched with multimedia content presents a short introduction and overview on topics related to humanitarian law, policy and action.

blogs.icrc.org/law-and-policy

LAW & POLICY NEWSLETTER

The Law and Policy Newsletter keeps you up to date with the latest news on humanitarian law, policy and action. Twice a month, it delivers timely updates about new projects, publications, upcoming events, as well as training opportunities offered by the ICRC.

bit.ly/lawpolnews

For more information or inquiries on these tools and resources, email us at forum@icrc.org.

ICRC